Make a Design Statement

This roof shows how Grand Manor and Carriage House in the same color (Stonegate Gray) can be combined for a subtle, yet pleasing, effect. Note how well Grand Manor works on this steeply pitched roof.

Carriage House, with its unique scalloped-edge look, is particularly suited to the creation of geometric designs. In this example, a combination of three colors was used to fashion different patterns.

Do you live in an older home? Tell the world when it was built, as shown here using Carriage House in Georgian Brick, on a background of Grand Manor and Carriage House in Stonegate Gray.

CREATE A UNIQUE ROOF DESIGN WITH GRAND MANOR... OR CARRIAGE HOUSE... OR BOTH!

Geometric patterns... florette designs... even the year your home was built! When you choose CertainTeed Grand Manor shingles, Carriage House shingles — or both — for your roof, you open the door to a world of design options. Here are examples of just a few of the almost limitless possibilities. Your contractor can help turn your ideas into beautiful, eye-catching reality.
